- l. Trustee Mike Jewell sits on the Architectural Review Board for the Historic District
- m. The trustees began discussions on how and where to establish a museum/headquarters in “Old” Dublin. This would be a HUGE undertaking, so we are moving cautiously. Trustee Virgil Mathias is leading the charge on this project. Moving cautiously to try to get a space.
- n. Participated in the first “Founders Day” in downtown Dublin.
- o. Tom Holton spoke on the walkway plan for around the Coffman House 2023 to be redone. A new handrail for the side entrance and a detachable handrail for the south entrance (for events) have been installed.
- p. We received artifacts/gifts from some of members and friends of the Society including:
  - i. Furniture for the Davis cabin from Ron & Anne Geese
  - ii. Painting of the stone bridge in Dublin from Jeff Wright class of 1967 his father was given a painting of the old bridge and donated it to the society. Storage in the records room temporarily. Committee approval pending. Discussion on where this painting will go in the future is up for discussion.
  - iii. New historical marker from the city along the Ohio Lewis-Rings Farmstead on a walking path by building that is used by the Golf Club of Dublin owned by the city. History of the farm is on the new marker.
  - iv. The city also installed a monument in the cemetery east of Shier Rings Road An African American cemetery found in Dublin. The city worked with the Brown and Harris family descendants to plan fencing, and monument-23 burials-not sure of identities. Earliest grave around 1820. City is interested in researching the history of the people buried there. This backs up to the Ohio State medical facility. Walking path takes you back to the site. Should be done by November 2023.
  - v. Scavenger Hunt of Dublin Historical Places Nick Vesha discussed how the scavenger hunt was used this year by Dublin Scioto High School students and how the society would like to expand its use in the future.
  - vi. Ron Geese proposed some future goals for the society: A desire was raised to put a sign outside of the former Chamber of Commerce building. Another desire to see changes/clean up to the buildings 30/32 S. High which used to be a market. Two barns in Dublin owned by the city of Dublin were also mentioned as possible storage for the society.
